E.g. ennuyeux/euse.

- 2 Nouns : Where a noun has both masculine and feminine forms, this has been shown either by adding (e), or by indicating the feminine form by a l. In these cases the definite article (le/la/l'/les) is omitted.
E.g. chanteur/euse

Where the same form of the noun can be either masculine or feminine, this has been indicated by putting le/la after the noun.

How do I use this Record?

- Look at the page headed 'Theme/Module 1 – My World'. You will see that this page is divided into topics and that each topic is divided into separate tasks. Alongside each task are four boxes, with the headings 'Listen', 'Speak', 'Read', 'Write'. The boxes are for you to tick whenever you are sure that you can do the task yourself or understand someone else doing it.
- Here is an example of a record which Penny has started to fill in, for Topic 1B – Interests and Hobbies.

1B – Interests and Hobbies	Listen	Speak	Read	Write
State my weekend and evening activities	✓	✓

Look at the first line. Penny can say what she does at the weekend and in the evening and she can understand someone else doing the same, so she has ticked the 'Speak' and 'Listen' boxes on that line. Penny isn't yet sure that she can understand details of weekend and evening activities when she reads them, so she hasn't ticked the 'Read' box yet. She isn't able to write down what she does at evenings and weekends yet, so she hasn't ticked the 'Write' box.

'Listening' means that you can understand

- other people performing the tasks listed
- announcements, instructions, requests and interviews on the tasks listed
- monologues, and conversations between two or more people, on the tasks listed.

'Speaking' means that you can

- carry out the tasks listed, by speaking
- take part in a conversation on the topics listed

'Reading' means that you can understand

- other people communicating appropriate tasks listed, in writing
- written material associated with, or on the subject of, the tasks listed.

'Writing' means that you can

- carry out appropriate tasks in the list in writing
- write on the subject of the tasks listed.

- As you go through your course, keep your own record of how much you can do, by ticking the boxes on the next few pages, and by making notes about how well you are doing. You can also tell where you need a bit more practice by looking to see which boxes are still blank and reading your notes. Fill in your record every time you are sure of a task and you will soon see at a glance just how much you can do!

COMMUNICATION STRATEGIES

How to work out the answer even if you don't know all the words!

There are also hints and tips on how to discover the meaning without needing your dictionary, too.

or How to work out the answer even if you don't know all the words

In your GCSE examination you will sometimes need to understand or use words which you haven't met before. Don't panic! This is where you need communication strategies or ways of working out the answer even if you don't know all the words. The next few pages give you plenty of tips. Use these and your common sense and you will find life much easier.

Understanding words when Listening and Reading

In the examination, as in real life, when you are listening to someone speaking French, you don't have time to use a dictionary. When you are reading French, you would quickly lose the thread if you had to look up every word. So you need some help in finding the meaning quickly, without any help from anywhere else.

It will help to ask yourself a few simple questions.

Do I need to read or listen to every word?

Sometimes the same thing will be written or said more than once, in different ways. Sometimes there will be extra information which you do not need in order to answer the question. In both cases, you need to know what's important and what you can ignore.

To help you pick out the information you really need to know so that you can answer the question

- make sure you really understand the question set
- decide what kind of question it is – is it asking for details, or for an overall impression?
- watch out for the words which will help you answer it, and ignore the rest.

Asking for details:

For example

“The girl was tall and thin, with brown hair. Her coat and shoes were blue. She stopped at the kiosk and bought a newspaper.”

Question: “What colour were her clothes?”

To answer this you need to watch out only for words for colours and clothes. You can ignore the rest of the sentence, because you don't need the other words to answer this question.

Asking for an overall impression:

When the question asks you to sum up what you have heard or read, or give an overall impression, you will probably need to gather clues from different places in the text. In this kind of question it is very important not to make snap judgements from just one or two words – you need to read or listen right through to the end before you decide on your answer.

For example

“Although he didn’t have much money, Jim always tried to help other people. Jim was small and thin and his clothes were old but he would rather give a few pence to charity than spend money on himself.”

Question: “What does this tell you about Jim’s character?”

To answer this, you need to watch out for the words which tell you about the kinds of things Jim did. The question isn’t asking you what Jim looked like, so you can ignore the words which tell you about his appearance and concentrate on the ones which tell you how he behaved.

Are there any useful clues in the sentence?

The rest of the sentence can help you to work out the meaning of a word you don’t know. The following sentences contain made-up words, but you can make a reasonable guess at what kind of things they are from the rest of the sentence.

“The man was wearing a fizzo on his head.” (some kind of hat).

“ The woman was accompanied by a long-haired bilpo on a long lead.”
(some kind of animal)

Intelligent guesswork of this kind can help you to make an attempt at the answer.

How can my knowledge of grammar help me?

If you know about how plurals of words are formed, how different tenses are made and such things as the rules for making words agree with each other, you will have some idea of what kind of unknown word you are dealing with. This can help you to make an intelligent guess at its meaning.

Look at this example in English: “The hungry cows waited at the gate.”

Here are some of the things which you know about English and which would help in working out what kind of words you are dealing with.

- Adding ‘-s’ usually makes a noun plural in English
- Adding ‘-ed’ to a verb usually makes a verb into the past tense
- A word between ‘the’ and a noun is often an adjective describing the noun

Using clues of this kind in French can help you to find your way through the sentence and to work out

- what kind of word you are dealing with
- how the sentence as a whole fits together

What do I know about the French way of life?

If you know something about the country and the way of life of the people whose language you are studying, you will have a better chance of working out what something means.

For example, your knowledge of the money they use could help you. It is obvious, from your knowledge of British currency, that

- “They paid three pence for the cinema tickets” is nonsense, but
- “They paid three pounds for the cinema tickets” makes sense.

Knowledge of this kind can also help you in making sense of French

Are there any patterns in the language to help me?

It can help you to unravel the meaning of a word if you understand how the word itself has been put together. Look particularly for prefixes (letters added to the front of a word) and suffixes (letters added to the end of the word).

For example

- the prefix ‘re-’ often gives the idea of ‘again’ or ‘back’, eg.

commencer	-	to start
recommencer	-	to start again
venir	-	to come
revenir	-	to come back
entrer	-	to go in
rentrer	-	to go back in (to go back home)

- the prefix ‘in-’ often acts like the English prefix ‘un-’, eg.

connu	-	known
inconnu	-	unknown
utile	-	useful
inutile	-	useless

- the suffix ‘-ment’ is often ‘-ly’ in English, eg.

certainement	-	certainly
exactement	-	exactly
extrêmement	-	extremely
généralement	-	generally

lentement	-	slowly
normalement	-	normally
vraiment	-	really
malheureusement	-	unfortunately
rapidement	-	quickly

- the suffix '-ette' often makes something smaller, eg.

la maison	-	house
la maisonette	-	small house, cottage
la fille	-	girl
la fillette	-	little girl
le cigare	-	cigar
la cigarette	-	cigarette

All words like cassette, allumette, serviette, fourchette tell you that they are small objects.

- the suffix '-té' is like the English '-ty' on the end of a noun, eg.

l'hospitalité	-	hospitality
l'identité	-	identity
l'université	-	university
la spécialité	-	speciality
la publicité	-	publicity, advert

- the suffixes '-ier' and '-ière' on jobs show whether it is a man or a woman, eg.

un fermier	-	farmer
une fermière	-	woman farmer
un ouvrier	-	worker (m)
une ouvrière	-	worker (f)
un caissier	-	cashier (m)
une caissière	-	cashier (f)

- the suffixes '-eur' and '-euse' do the same, eg.

un vendeur	-	shop assistant (m)
une vendeuse	-	shop assistant (f)
un serveur	-	waiter
une serveuse	-	waitress

Understanding words when Reading

Here are some extra hints to help you understand words which you have not met before when you are reading. Try asking yourself the following questions.

Are any words the same as in English?

There are a lot of words which look the same as in English and have the same, or almost the same meaning. These words are often called cognates. They can help you to understand words you don't know in French, though you do need to be careful, as you'll see below.

Here are some cognates

le garage	-	garage
le taxi	-	taxi
le poster	-	poster
le piano	-	piano
le sport	-	sport
la date	-	date
l'Europe	-	Europe
orange	-	orange
le ticket	-	ticket
le ski	-	ski
la sauce	-	sauce
le village	-	village
la photo	-	photograph
le magazine	-	magazine
le concert	-	concert
direct	-	direct
le fruit	-	fruit
le week-end	-	weekend
le sandwich	-	sandwich

And some near-cognates – words which have nearly the same spelling in French as in English. These are listed on the next page.

l'âge	-	age
la personne	-	person
le short	-	shorts
le porc	-	pork
le jus	-	juice
la musique	-	music
l'histoire	-	history
l'adulte	-	adult
sérieux	-	serious
l'oncle	-	uncle
l'orchestre	-	orchestra
l'examen	-	exam
la lampe	-	lamp

BEWARE! There are also a few 'false friends' – words which look the same in French and English but have different meanings. Watch out for words such as

grand	-	big
la place	-	square, seat, room
la journée	-	day
la pièce	-	room, coin, play
le parking	-	car park
large	-	wide
la cave	-	cellar
joli	-	pretty
la veste	-	jacket
mince	-	slim
le médecin	-	doctor
la monnaie	-	change
le slip	-	briefs
le car	-	coach
le crayon	-	pencil
les affaires	-	business
le pain	-	bread
les baskets	-	trainers

What else helps?

There are a lot of words in French which you can understand if you know a few simple spelling rules. These will help you to work out what the word is in English.

Here are some examples:

- Words which end in '-ie' in French often end in '-y' in English, eg.

la technologie	-	technology
la biologie	-	biology
la géographie	-	geography
la Normandie	-	Normandy

- Words with a circumflex often have an extra 's' in English, eg.

coûter	-	To cost
août	-	August
la côte	-	Coast
l'hôtesse de l'air	-	Air hostess
le château	-	castle
la fête	-	feast, festival
l'hôpital	-	hospital
le rôti	-	roast

- French verbs without the infinitive ending '-er' sometimes look like English verbs, eg.

admirer	-	to admire
payer	-	to pay
détester	-	to detest, hate
continuer	-	to continue
téléphoner	-	to telephone, ring up
signer	-	to sign
visiter	-	to visit
refuser	-	to refuse
proposer	-	to propose/suggest

- The '-ant' ending is often '-ing' in English:

intéressant	-	interesting
amusant	-	amusing
passionnant	-	exciting
charmant	-	charming
pendant	-	during

- The '-eux' ending is often '-ous' in English:

religieux	-	religious
délicieux	-	delicious
sérieux	-	serious
joyeux	-	joyous, happy
dangereux	-	dangerous

- The '-ique' ending is often '-ic' in English:

l'Atlantique	-	the Atlantic
la musique	-	music
dynamique	-	dynamic
électronique	-	electronic
la physique	-	physics
la plastique	-	plastic

Understanding words when Listening

It is easier to use guidelines when you are reading than when you are listening to French because you have more time to stop and think about the unknown word and the words around it. All the same, there are some ways in which you can help yourself.

Are any words the same as in English?

There are many words which sound the same, or almost the same as in English, and have the same meaning, such as

l'âge	- age
normal	- normal
le week-end	- weekend
le ski	- ski
la télévision	- television
la classe	- class
le groupe	- group
l'animal	- animal
le bus	- bus
le film	- film
la soupe	- soup

How else can I help myself?

Some words which look the same as in English do not sound the same, but if you know something about sound patterns in French, you will find them easier to recognise. Here are some examples where knowing sound patterns can help.

The sound 'ee' will almost always be spelt with the letter 'i' in French:

le riz	- rice
la ville	- town
lire	- to read
le silence	- silence
le lit	- bed
facile	- easy
ici	- here
le billet	- ticket
les chips	- crisps
la liste	- list

The sound 'see-on' will always be spelt '-tion' or '-sion':

le natation	-	swimming
l'émission	-	programme
l'excursion	-	outing, trip
la réservation	-	booking
la distraction	-	amusement
la destination	-	destination
l'équitation	-	horse-riding
la direction	-	direction
les informations	-	news

The sound 'sh' is usually spelt 'ch' in French:

le chat	-	cat
le chien	-	dog
le chocolat	-	chocolate
la chose	-	thing
se coucher	-	to go to bed
le mouchoir	-	handkerchief
riche	-	rich
le marché	-	market

You rarely hear a consonant in French if it is the last letter of a word. If the word you hear does seem to end on a consonant, it often has the letter 'e' after it:

trop	-	too	but
le groupe	-	group
le poisson	-	fish	but
le téléphone	-	telephone
le placard	-	cupboard	but
la promenade	-	walk
le parent	-	parent	but
la note	-	mark
le bois	-	wood	but
la tasse	-	cup

Producing words in Speaking & Writing

When you are speaking or writing in French you sometimes find yourself 'lost for words'. Think about what you do if this happens to you when you are speaking your own language.

You get your message across either

- non-verbally by using your face or hands, perhaps with a few words, to show what you mean,

or

- verbally by talking your way round the problem.

You can do exactly the same things in French.

What can I do to get my message across non-verbally?

This method of communication can be useful when you are speaking French abroad, but you should not rely on it in the Speaking Test, because the examiner can only mark what you say!

All the same, it is worth knowing what you could do. Here are some ideas.

- Pointing & showing, eg:
 - Showing the size of something with your hands and saying 'Aussi grand que ça'.
 - Pointing at an object and saying 'Qu'est-ce que c'est?'
 - Pointing to where it hurts and saying 'Ça me fait mal'.
- Expression, eg:
 - Showing surprise or anger by tone of voice
 - Showing anger, surprise, fear or pleasure by look on your face
- Mime, eg:
 - You've forgotten how to say 'Can I help you by drying the dishes?' You could mime the action of drying the dishes while saying 'Puis-je t'aider?'
- Drawing, eg:
 - To show how you get from one point to another, such as from your house to the station.

How can I get my message across verbally, if I don't know all the words?

There are ways of doing this, and it's well worth practising them because they are useful in lots of different situations, not just the Speaking Test. All of them are better than saying nothing. Here are some ideas.

- Using a word which refers to a similar thing. For example, if you can't remember how to say
 - 'repas' you could say 'déjeuner' or 'dîner'
 - 'verre' you could say 'tasse'
 - 'pendule' you could say 'montre'
 - 'fauteil' you could say 'chaise'
 - 'morceau' you could say 'peu'

- You could make a list of others which you might find useful.
- Describing something

You could describe the thing you've forgotten the word for. For example, if you can't remember how to say

'arrêt d'autobus'	you could say	'où le bus s'arrête'
'auberge de jeunesse'	you could say	'hôtel pour les jeunes'
'citron'	you could say	'fruit jaune'
'ouvre-bouteille'	you could say	'la chose qui ouvre une bouteille'
'lapin'	you could say	'l'animal aux oreilles longues'

- Using simpler language

If you can't communicate your idea exactly as you want to, try saying it more simply, eg:

If you can't say 'J'attends ta visite avec impatience'
you could say 'Je vais aimer ta visite'

If you can't say 'Je suis arrivé à 5 heures'
you could say 'J'étais ici à 5 heures'

You can also use opposites, eg:

You've forgotten:

'c'est occupé'	so say	'ce n'est pas libre'
'c'est gratuit'	so say	'vous ne payez pas'
'c'est tout près'	so say	'ce n'est pas loin''
'j'ai manqué le train'	so say	'je n'ai pas pris le train'

Is it all right if I just invent a word?

No – please don't! It really isn't a good idea. At best you will probably have a word which doesn't exist and at worst one which means something quite different from what you intended and which leads you into a lot of awkward explanations!

Using a dictionary

REMEMBER – you can use a dictionary for classwork and for coursework, but you cannot use it within the examination.

A dictionary is a useful tool, but it isn't a substitute for learning words and learning how to communicate. Like most tools, a dictionary is only as good as the person using it. It's worth the effort to find out how your dictionary works and to practise using it.

Here are some hints to help you get the best out of your dictionary.

What do I need to remember when looking up a word?

You will find words much more quickly if you remember that

- a bilingual dictionary comes in two halves – French-English, followed by English-French
- the words are listed in alphabetical order, so you need to know what the alphabetical order is in each language
- the words at the top of the page will help you find the word you want
- your knowledge of grammar will help you to find the word you want – for example, it is no use looking up il a because verbs are listed as infinitives (avoir)
- you will find mange, mangé, mangeaient, mangez, mangent, mangera, etc. all under the infinitive form of manger.
- you will find grande, grands and grandes under the masculine singular form, grand.
- your dictionary will guide you to the right word to look up for irregular forms, eg.

bu	will refer you to	boire
belle	will refer you to	beau
chevaux	will refer you to	cheval
vos	will refer you to	votre

What can help me to understand the dictionary entry now that I've found it?

Quick ways of giving you information are used in dictionaries. You need to know what these are, so that you can find your way through the entry easily and without wasting time.

Remember that

- feminine and plural forms are often given without writing the word out in full, eg.
 - the feminine form of industriel is just given as -le to show industrielle
 - the feminine form of sportif is just given as -ive to show sportive
 - the plural form of château is just given as -x to show châteaux
 - if you look up 'birthday' you might only find 'birth'. Within that section you will see '-day'. This is how the dictionary saves space.

- abbreviations are used to show parts of speech, eg.

porte n.f. - this tells you that it is a feminine noun, so you might need to put une or la in front of it.

jardin n.m.	-	this tells you that it is a masculine noun, so you might need to put un or le in front of it.
jouer v.t.	-	this tells you that it is a verb and you will probably need to change the -er ending when you use it.
petit adj.	-	this tells you it is an adjective, so you may need to add an ending like e or s when you use it.

Make sure that you know where the list of abbreviations is in your dictionary, and what they mean. Practise looking up words and working your way through the entry for them. You need to be able to use your dictionary quickly and confidently if you are to get the best out of it.

How do I choose the correct word from the ones I'm given?

Sometimes you look up a word and find that several different translations are given. This can be a problem – if you choose the wrong one, you won't be saying what you intended.

For example

- You look up 'boot' in your dictionary. The words you find are:

botte, chaussure, coffre

You might find that all you needed was a reminder – perhaps coffre looks familiar straight away and so you pick that.

But sometimes none of the words you have to choose from looks familiar, so what do you do now? The only thing you can do is look each one up in the French-English part of the dictionary, and see which fits the meaning you had in mind. For the example we are using, you would find something like:

botte	means	'boot' (for feet)
chaussure	means	'footwear'
coffre	means	'boot' (of car)

This shows that the words actually match different meanings of 'boot' in English. Now that you know this, you can choose sensibly the word you need.

- The same applies when you look up a French word, but here you also have the context to help you, eg. the sentence reads il a volé 200 francs. You look up voler. It has two meanings: to fly and to steal. In the context, it can only mean 'to steal'.

Will I do best if I look up every word?

No! A dictionary can help you, but it's only as good as the person using it. If you don't know how French works and how it fits together, the dictionary can't do it for you. There really is no substitute for learning vocabulary and grammar.

Looking up every word can lead you into writing gibberish. This is because people often communicate their thoughts by groups of words.

For example, if you looked up every word to translate 'I want to leave school' in French, you could come out with Je veux à sortir école. These are French words, one for each English word, but as a group they wouldn't mean anything to a French-speaker.

So think about how French communicates ideas, and keep well away from word-for-word translation.

To sum it all up

If you

- know your vocabulary
- know how French works – its grammar and structures and how it all fits together
- learn to use communication strategies and practise them as often as possible

you will stand a very good chance of producing good work in the examination and, better still, being a person who understands and communicates well. In other words, you'll get real pleasure from being able to talk French to French-speakers and from being able to understand their language and way of life.

BONNE CHANCE!

2 Talking about People, Places and Things

Nouns

- In French, nouns (words for people, places and things) are either masculine or feminine. As you meet new nouns, it's best to learn whether they take le/un or la/une.

masculine

un biscuit a biscuit
le biscuit the biscuit

feminine

une pomme an apple
la pomme the apple

- If le and la come before a noun beginning with a vowel (a e i o u) or 'h' (usually), they are shortened to l', eg.

l'oignon, l'eau minérale, l'heure

- Sometimes, the is not used in English where le and la are used in French, eg;

Tu aimes le poulet? (Do you like chicken?)

- Sometimes, un and une are not used in French where a is used in English, eg.

Mon père est infirmier (My father is a nurse)

Plurals (more than one)

les biscuits	the biscuits	les pommes	the apples
des biscuits	some biscuits	des pommes	some apples

- Like English, most French nouns have plurals ending in -s. There are some exceptions, eg.

words ending in -al: un cheval (horse) - *des chevaux

words ending in -ou: le genou (knee) - *les genoux

Au, à la, à l', aux

- Some of the words for 'the' change when they are combined with à. The word à can mean 'to' or 'at', and is also used in set phrases such as 's'intéresser à (to be interested in).

à + le = au	à + la = à la	à + l' = à l'	à + les = aux
Tu vas au cinéma?	Je m'intéresse à la musique	Il travaille à l'hôtel Sofitel	On va aux magasins demain?

Du, de la, de l', des

- Some of the words for 'the' change when they are combined with de. The word de can mean 'from' or 'of' and is also used in set phrases such as près de (near), à côté de (next to).

de + le = du	de + la = de la	de + l' = de l'	de + les = des
J'habite près du cinéma	Ma maison est au coin de la rue	Il habite à côté de l'hôpital	Ça c'est la salle des professeurs

- du, de la, de l', des can also mean 'some' or 'any', eg.

Je voudrais du pain (I'd like some bread)

Tu a des frères ou des soeurs? (Do you have any brothers or sisters?)

- After pas (eg. when saying what you haven't got), you use de, eg.

Je n'ai pas de pain (I haven't got any bread)

Il n'y a pas de cinéma au centre-ville (There is no cinema in the town centre)

Pronouns: I, you, he, etc.

je	Le week-end, je joue au foot	I play football at the weekend
tu	Tu aimes la musique?	Do you like music?
il	Il s'appelle Paul	He is called Paul
elle	Elle a quinze ans	She is fifteen
on	On va au cinéma?	Shall we go to the cinema?
nous	Nous habitons un appartement	We live in a flat
vous	Vous habitez en banlieue?	Do you live in the suburbs?
ils	J'ai deux frères. Ils sont bêtes.	I have two brothers. They are stupid.
elles	J'ai deux soeurs. Elles habitent à Paris.	I have two sisters. They live in Paris.

- There are two words for 'you' in French:

You use tu

- when talking to someone you know very well
- when talking to another young person

You use vous

- when talking to an adult you don't know very well
- when talking to more than one person

- Il and elle can both also mean 'it', eg.

Il est bon, ce livre? (Is it good, this book?)

J'aime ta chambre. Elle est très grande. (I like your bedroom. It's really big.)

- On can mean 'we', 'you' or 'they' (= 'people'), eg.

Chez nous, on mange dans la cuisine. (We eat in the kitchen at our house)

Comment dit-on 'chair' en français? (How do you say 'chair' in French?)

En France, on fait un grand repas le 24 décembre. (In France, they have a big meal on 24 December)

- Elles replaces feminine nouns only. Ils replaces masculine nouns, or a mixture of masculine and feminine, eg.

Où sont mes crayons? (Where are my pencils?)

Ils ne sont pas dans ma trousse.* (They are not in my pencil case)

Je te présente Joseph et Suzanne. (This is Joseph and Suzanne)

Ils habitent à Calais.* (They live in Calais)

Pronouns: me, you, him, etc.

- You use moi, toi, lui, elle, nous, vous, eux, elles after particular words, eg.

chez moi	at/to my house	chez nous	at/to our house
avec toi	with you	avec vous	with you
sans lui	without him	sans eux	without them
pour elle	for her	pour elles	for them

- You use the following pronouns to show who or what the action of the verb is being done to:

me	me	nous	us
te	you	vous	you
le	him/it (masculine)	les	them
la	her/it (feminine)

- These pronouns come in front of the verb, eg.:

Mon prof de français s'appelle Mme Brown. Je la déteste. (My French teacher's name is Mrs Brown. I hate her.)

Où est mon stylo? Je l'ai perdu. (Where is my pen? I've lost it)

Je peux vous aider? (Can I help you?)

Pronouns: to him, to her, etc.

- You use lui and leur to mean to him/to her and to them – but the word 'to' is often left out in English, eg.

- Je lui ai donné un cadeau. (I gave him/her a present.)
Il leur écrit une lettre. (He is writing them a letter.)

Y and en

- The word 'y' is used to replace phrases with à + a place, or en + a country. It means 'there' although the word 'there' is often missed out in English.

J'aime la Bretagne. J'y vais souvent. (I love Brittany. I often go [there])

Tu vas souvent en France? (Do you often go to France?)

J'y vais chaque année. (I go [there] every year)

- The word 'en' can be translated as 'of them', 'of it' or 'some', although these words are often missed out in English. It is used to replace nouns which are linked to a number or quantity, eg.

Tu as des poissons? (Have you got any fish?)

Moi, j'en ai cinq (I've got five [of them])

J'adore le chocolat. (I love chocolate)

J'en mange beaucoup. (I eat a lot [of it])

J'ai trop de sandwichs. (I've got too many sandwiches)

Tu en veux? (Do you want some?)

This, these

- The word you use to say 'this....' depends on the word which follows:

this...	ce garçon (this boy)	masculine singular
	cet après-midi (this afternoon)	masculine words beginning with a vowel, or 'h' (usually)
	cette fille (this girl)	feminine singular

these...	ces enfants (these children)	masculine and feminine plural
-----------------	-------------------------------------	--------------------------------------

My, your, his

- The French words for 'my', 'your', etc. vary, depending on the word which follows:

	masculine singular	feminine singular	masc & fem plural
my....	mon pull	ma cravate	mes chaussures
your...	ton livre	ta trousse	tes crayons
his/her/its...	son nez	sa tête	ses oreilles
our...	notre appartement	notre maison	nos voisins
your...	votre chien	votre souris	vos animaux
their...	leur père	leur mère	leurs parents

- Son, sa and ses can each mean 'his', 'her' or 'its'. You can tell which from the context, eg.

Ibrahim boit son lait. (Ibrahim is drinking his milk)

Cécile boit son lait. (Cécile is drinking her milk)

Le chat boit son lait. (The cat is drinking its milk)

- Before feminine words which begin with a vowel or ‘h’ (usually), you use mon, ton and son, instead of ma, ta and sa, eg.

Voici mon amie, Sylvie. (Here’s my friend, Sylvie)

Elle est grande, ton école? (Is your school big?)

Il a fini son omelette. (He has finished his omelette)

3 Describing People, Places and Things

Adjectives

- The adjectives you use to describe people, places and things have different endings, depending on what you are describing. The masculine form is what you find in the dictionary. You add the following endings to it.

masculine singular	feminine singular add –e	masculine plural add –s	feminine plural add –es
un pull bleu	une robe bleue	des pulls bleus	des robes bleues

- If a masculine adjective already ends in –e, you don’t add another one for the feminine, eg. jeune (young): un jeune homme – une jeune femme.
- If a masculine adjective already ends in –s, you don’t add another one for the plural, eg. gros (fat): un gros chien – deux gros chiens.
- Here are some common exceptions to the normal pattern shown above:

feminine: double letter	il est canadien Bon voyage! un gros chien	elle est canadienne Bonnes vacances! une grosse souris	Canadian good fat
masculine –eux → feminine -euse	il est heureux	elle est heureuse	happy
masculine –eau → feminine -elle	il est nouveau l’appartement est beau	elle est nouvelle la maison est belle	new beautiful, good-looking
masc singular –eau → plural -eaux	il est nouveau	ils sont nouveaux	new

- Most adjectives come after the word they describe, eg.

*il a les cheveux blonds (he has blond hair)

*c’est un problème difficile (it’s a difficult problem)

- A few adjectives come before the words they describe, eg.

gros (large, fat), grand (big), petit (small), bon (good), mauvais (bad), joli (pretty), beau (lovely, handsome), jeune (young), vieux (old), long (long), court (short).

- Beau and vieux change to bel and vieil, if the word which follows begins with a vowel or, ‘h’ (usually):

un bel appartement (a lovely flat)
un vieil homme (an old man)

- You can also use whole phrases to describe people and things, using the following pronouns:

qui – who/which, eg.

le garçon qui habite à côté (the boy who lives next door)
l'émission qui m'intéresse (the programme which interests me)

(qui is always the subject of the verb which follows it.)

que – that/which/who eg.

la fille que j'ai vue (the girl (that) I saw)
le livre que je t'ai donné (the book (which) I gave you)

(que is always the object of the verb which follows it.)

Detailed descriptions: adverbs

- You can use adverbs along with adjectives to make your descriptions more exact. Here are some common ones:

très : very	il est très intelligent (he's very clever)
	il n'est pas très intelligent (he isn't very clever) assez : quite	je suis assez timide (I'm quite shy)
trop : too	ce pull est trop petit (this jumper is too small)

- Most adverbs end in -ment in French and -ly in English, eg.

c'est extrêmement difficile (it's extremely difficult)
il est vraiment sympa (he's really nice)
je vais probablement faire de la natation (I'm probably going swimming)
*il parle lentement (he speaks slowly)

- To form adverbs, you add -ment to the feminine singular form of the adjective, eg.

heureux (happy) → heureuse → heureusement (fortunately, happily)
complet (complete) → complète → complètement (completely)

- Some common exceptions are:

bien (well), mal (badly), vite (quickly)

Making comparisons

- You can make comparisons easily, by using the words plus, moins and aussi, eg.

plus....que mon frère est plus âgé que moi (my brother is older than I am) moins....que les maths sont moins intéressantes que la physique (maths is less interesting than physics)

le Ben Nevis est moins haut que le Mont Blanc (Ben Nevis is not as high as Mont Blanc)

aussi....que la physique est aussi facile que les maths (physics is as easy as maths)

- Here are a few exceptions:

bon (good) – meilleur (better)
ce film est meilleur (this film is better)

mauvais (bad) – pire (worse)
le temps est pire que vendredi (the weather is worse than on Friday)

bien (well) – mieux (better)
tu joues mieux que moi (you play better than me)

mal (badly) – pire (worse)
tu joues pire que moi (you play worse than I do)

- To say ‘the most...’ or ‘the least...’, you just add the appropriate word for ‘the’: le, la or les, eg.

le film le plus long (the longest film)
la rue la plus belle de Paris (the most beautiful street in Paris)
les matières les moins intéressantes (the least interesting subjects)
le meilleur film (the best film)

4 Talking About the Present and What Usually Happens

- When you look up a verb in the dictionary, you will find what is called the infinitive form of the verb, eg. to like = aimer.

[a/w – extract from pocket dictionary Eng → French, to show headword like, with aimer highlighted]

To use a verb you have looked up, you will usually have to change the ending, eg.

I like = j'aime

- In the present tense, most verbs follow one of three regular patterns of endings, depending on whether the infinitive ends in -er, -ir or -re:

Regular present tense endings:

verbs which end in -er eg. jouer = to play	verbs which end in -ir eg. finir = to finish	verbs which end in -re eg. vendre = to sell
je joue	je finis	je vends
tu joues	tu finis	tu vends
il joue	il finit	il vend
elle joue	elle finit	elle vend
on joue	on finit	on vend
nous jouons	nous finissons	nous vendons
vous jouez	vous finissez	vous vendez
ils jouent	ils finissent	ils vendent
elles jouent	elles finissent	elles vendent

- You use verbs in the present tense to talk about the current situation, eg.

ils jouent aux cartes dans le salon (they are playing cards in the sitting room)

je finis mes devoirs (I'm finishing my homework)

il vend son vélo (he's selling his bike)

- You also use verbs in the present tense to say what usually happens, eg.

après l'école, on joue au foot (after school, we play football)

le mardi, je finis mes devoirs avant neuf heures (on Tuesdays, I finish my homework before nine o'clock)

nous vendons des biscuits pendant la récréation (we sell biscuits during break)

- Many verbs don't follow the regular pattern above. You just have to learn them. Here are four very common and useful ones:

aller = to go	avoir = to have	être = to be	faire = to make
je vais	j'ai	je suis	je fais
tu vas	tu as	tu es	tu fais
il va	il a	il est	il fait
elle va	elle a	elle est	elle fait
on va	on a	on est	on fait
nous allons	nous avons	nous sommes	nous faisons
vous allez	vous avez	vous êtes	vous faites
ils vont	ils ont	ils sont	ils font
elles vont	elles ont	elles sont	elles font

Reflexive Verbs

- Some verbs have an extra part to them. These are known as reflexive verbs, and often refer to actions you do to yourself. The endings follow the normal pattern.

se laver = to get washed, to wash oneself

je m'excuse d'être en retard (I apologise for being late) tu te lèves à quelle heure? (what time do you get up?)
il s'arrête à la gare, ce bus? (does this bus stop at the station?)
elle se brosse les dents (she's brushing her teeth)
on s'amuse bien (we have a good time)
nous nous lavons avant le petit déjeuner (we get washed before breakfast) vous vous couchez tard? (do you go to bed late?)
ils s'intéressent au cyclisme (they're interested in cycling)
elles s'appellent Nadia et Magali (they're called Nadia and Magali)

- Me, te and se are shortened to m', t' and s' if the verb begins with a vowel or 'h' (usually) eg. Tu t'appelles comment?
- To look up a reflexive verb in the dictionary, look under the letter that the main part of the verb starts with. For example, to look up se lever, look under 'L'.

Present Participle

- This form of the verb always ends in -ant. It is used when one action is taking place at the same time as another. It often has en in front of it, eg.

Elle a mangé des chocolats en regardant la télé. (She ate chocolates while she watched TV).

Negatives

- To make a statement negative, you put ne and pas round the verb, eg.
elle ne joue pas au basket (she isn't playing/doesn't play basketball)
je n'aime pas les films d'épouvante (I don't like horror films)
- To make a reflexive verb negative, you put ne and pas round the verb plus the extra part, eg.

je ne me lève pas avant huit heures (I don't get up before eight o'clock)
il ne s'intéresse pas au sport (he isn't interested in sport)

- To make a verb in the perfect tense negative, you put ne and pas round the part of avoir or être, eg.

je n'ai pas lu ce livre (I haven't read this book)
il n'est pas encore rentré (he hasn't come back yet)
je ne me suis pas brossé les dents (I haven't brushed my teeth)

- Other useful negative phrases include:

ne...rien

je ne mange rien le matin (I eat nothing/I don't eat anything in the morning)

ne...plus

Il ne va plus à l'étranger (he doesn't go abroad any more)

ne...jamais

je ne vais jamais au théâtre (I never go to the theatre)

ne...personne

je ne connais personne ici (I don't know anyone/I know no-one here)

ne...ni...ni

je n'ai visité ni la France, ni la Belgique (I've visited neither France, nor Belgium/I haven't visited either France or Belgium)

Likes and dislikes

- The following verbs are useful for talking about what you like and dislike doing. The verb which comes after them is always in the infinitive form.

aimer tu aimes regarder le sport à la télé? (Do you like watching sport on TV?)

Je n'aime pas écouter la radio (I don't like listening to the radio)

préférer Moi, je préfère aller aux matchs. (I prefer going to matches)

adorer Ma soeur adore jouer au tennis. (My sister loves playing tennis)

détester Je déteste faire la vaisselle. (I hate doing the washing up)

The Infinitive

If you need to use two verbs together in a sentence, the second will be in the infinitive form.

- The following verbs are followed immediately by the infinitive:

adorer = to love to

il faut = it is necessary to

aimer = to like to

pouvoir = to be able to

désirer = to want to

préférer = to prefer to

détester = to hate to

savoir = to know how to

espérer = to hope to

vouloir = to want to

eg. Elle adore regarder la télé. (She loves to watch TV).

- After the following verbs, the infinitive has à in front of it:

aider = to help (someone) to se décider = to make one's mind up to apprendre = to learn to

hésiter = to hesitate to

commencer = to begin to inviter = to invite (someone) to

continuer = to continue to

réussir = to succeed in

eg. Il aide son père à laver la voiture. (He helps his father to wash the car).

- After the following verbs, the infinitive has de in front of it:

avoir besoin = to need to avoir peur = to be afraid of avoir le temps = to have time to décider = to decide to empêcher = to prevent from

essayer = to try to finir = to finish
oublier = to forget to promettre = to promise to regretter = to be sorry to

eg. J'ai besoin d'aller à la banque. (I need to go to the bank).

5 Talking about the Future

The immediate future

- As in English, you can actually use the present tense to talk about the immediate future, eg.

Qu'est-ce que tu fais demain soir? (What are you doing tomorrow evening?)
Je sors avec mes copains (I'm going out with my friends)
On va au cinéma (We're going to the pictures)

- You can also use the verb aller to talk about what you are going to do in the immediate future.

Use the correct form of aller (je vais, tu vas, etc), with the infinitive form of the other verb, eg.

Qu'est-ce que tu vas faire demain soir? (What are you going to do tomorrow evening?)
Je vais sortir avec mes copains (I'm going to go out with my friends)
On va aller au cinéma (We're going to go to the pictures)

- To say what someone is not going to do, just add ne and pas round the part of aller, eg.

Je ne vais pas sortir ce soir (I'm not going to go out tonight)

The future tense

- To talk about what will happen, you can use the future tense.

Add these endings to the infinitive form of the verb (for -re verbs, leave off the final e)

je mangerai	I will eat
tu finiras	you will finish
il/elle attendra	he/she will wait
nous parlerons	we will speak
vous choisirez	you will choose
ils/elles prendront	they will take

Some verbs – être, avoir, faire are the most common – don't quite follow the same pattern, though the endings are always the same, eg.

Demain, il fera beau (Tomorrow it will be fine)

Je serai en retard (I will be late)

Dans dix ans, j'aurai une voiture de sport (In ten year's time I'll have a sports car)

The conditional tense

- To talk about what would happen (if something else happened), you can use the conditional tense, which is formed in exactly the same way as the future tense, but using the following endings:

je mangerais	I would eat
tu finirais	you would finish
il/elle attendrait	he/she would wait
nous parlerions	we would speak
vous choisiriez	you would choose
ils/elles prendraient	they would take

eg. Si j'avais beaucoup d'argent, j'achèterais une grande maison. (If I had a lot of money, I would buy a big house)

Ambitions and intentions

- You can use the following words to talk about your hopes, plans and ambitions:

je veux quitter l'école après les examens (I want to leave school after the exams)

plus tard, je voudrais voyager (later on, I'd like to travel)

j'espère visiter la France (I hope to visit France)

j'aimerais travailler dans une banque (I'd like to work in a bank)

As with aimer, they are followed by the infinitive.

6 Talking About The Past

The Perfect Tense

- You use the perfect tense to talk about what someone did or has done, eg.

il a vu un bon film à la télé hier (he saw a good film on TV yesterday).

j'ai oublié mon cahier (I have forgotten my exercise book).

- To form the perfect tense, you usually use avoir and the past participle of the main verb. The past participle is formed as follows:

verbs with infinitives ending in -er: remove the -er and add -é

eg. regarder → regardé j'ai regardé la télévision

verbs with infinitives ending in -ir: remove the -r

eg. finir → fini tu as fini tes devoirs?

verbs with infinitives ending in -re: remove the -re and add -u
 eg. perdre → perdu elle a perdu son parapluie

- J'ai regardé can mean 'I watched' or 'I have watched' in English, but you can't miss out the part of avoir in French.
- Some verbs don't follow the above pattern. You just have to learn the past participle. Your dictionary may have a list of these to help you. Here are some common ones:

(dire : to say)	j'ai dit	(faire : to make, do)	j'ai fait
(écrire : to write)	j'ai écrit	(boire : to drink)	j'ai bu
(prendre : to take)	j'ai pris	(lire : to read)	j'ai lu
(mettre : to put)	j'ai mis	(voir : to see)	j'ai vu

- The following verbs take être, rather than avoir in the perfect tense:

(arriver : to arrive)	il est arrivé	(monter : to go up)	Il est monté
(partir : to leave)	il est parti	(descendre : to go down)	il est descendu
(venir : to come)	il est venu	(nâître : to be born)	il est né
(aller : to go)	il est allé	(mourir : to die)	il est mort
(entrer : to go in)	il est entré	(passer : to pass by)	il est passé
(sortir : to go out)	il est sorti	(tomber : to fall)	il est tombé
(rester : to stay)	il est resté

- With verbs which take être you add letters to the past participle as follows:

feminine singular	elle est allée
masculine or mixed plural	ils sont allés
feminine plural	elles sont allées

- To make a negative statement, put ne and pas round the part of avoir or être, eg.

nous n'avons pas vu le match
je ne suis pas allé en ville ce matin

- Reflexive verbs take être in the perfect tense, eg.

je me suis levé à sept heures ce matin

Saying what something was like

- When talking about the past, you can use the phrase c'était for describing a place, activity or event, and for giving your opinion, eg.

Je suis allé en France. C'était super, et pas très cher (I went to France. It was great, and not too expensive)
C'était bien/intéressant/ennuyeux. (It was good/interesting/boring)

- Another useful phrase is il y avait:

Il y avait une piscine à l'hôtel. (There was a swimming pool at the hotel)
Il y avait beaucoup de choses à faire. (There were lots of things to do)

present:

it is c'est

there is/are il y a

past:

it was c'était

there was/were il y avait

For how long? Since when?

- To say how long or since when you have been doing something, you actually use the present tense in French, eg.

Je joue du piano depuis cinq ans (I have been playing the piano for 5 years) on habite ici depuis juin (we have been living here since June) il a mal à la tête depuis ce matin (he has had a headache since this morning)

- As you can see from the examples, depuis can mean for or since.

The Pluperfect Tense

- The pluperfect tense moves the action a step further back than the perfect tense. It is formed in just the same way, but you use the imperfect of avoir or être with the past participle, eg.

Il m'a invité au cinéma, mais j'avais déjà vu le film. (He invited me to the cinema, but I had already seen the film.)

Je suis arrivé à neuf heures, mais il était parti. (I arrived at nine o'clock but he had left.)

The Perfect Infinitive

- To talk about someone doing two actions in the past, one after the other, you can use the perfect infinitive. To do this, you use après avoir (or être) followed by the past participle, eg.

Après avoir fini mes devoirs, j'ai écouté mes CD. (When I had finished my homework, I listened to my CDs.)

Après être rentrée à la maison, je suis allée directement au lit. (When I got home I went straight to bed.)

NB this only works if the same person is the subject of both verbs.

7 Asking Questions

Ways of asking questions

- There are different ways to ask a question in French. One easy way is to turn a statement into a question just by changing the tone of your voice, eg.

Vous aimez la musique? (Do you like music?)
Patrick a téléphoné? (Has Patrick 'phoned?)

If necessary, use a question word, eg.

Tu habites où (Where do you live?)

People often ask questions in this way in informal speech.

- You can also use the words est-ce que, eg.

Est-ce que vous aimez la musique? (Do you like music?)
Est-ce qu'il a téléphoné? (Has he 'phoned?)
Où est-ce que tu habites? (Where do you live?)

- A more formal way of asking a question is to change the order of the words so that the verb comes first, eg.

Aimez-vous la musique? (Do you like music?)
Avez-vous un plan de la ville? (Do you have a map of the town?)

Question words

- To help you ask and answer questions, you will find it useful to learn some common question words, eg.

qui	who	Tu es allé au cinéma avec qui?
qu'est-ce que	what	Qu'est-ce que tu fais ce week-end?
où	where	Où vas-tu?
pourquoi	why	Pourquoi préfères-tu les maths?
quand	when	Quand est-ce que vous partez? combien	how much how many	C'est combien, ce parfum? Il a combien de chiens?
comment	how what what like	Comment vas-tu au collège? tu t'appelles comment? Elle est comment, ta mère?

Please?

- Remember that there are two ways of saying 'please'. See Section 2, if you are not sure when to use tu and vous.

s'il vous plaît if you call someone 'vous'
s'il te plaît if you call someone 'tu'

8 Saying Where, When and How Much

Position

- You can use the following words to say where something is. You will see that the last two are followed by de. For a reminder of how to combine de with le, la and les, see Section 2.

dans	in	j'ai un ordinateur dans ma chambre
sur	on	tes clés sont sur la table
sous	under	le chat dort sous mon lit
entre	between	la boulangerie est entre la poste et la banque
devant	in front of	rendez-vous devant le cinéma derrière	behind	les toilettes se trouvent derrière la salle d'attente
près de	near	j'habite près de Londres
à côté de	next to	elle habite à côté de un jardin publique

- Unlike in English, you just use the number as it is for most dates, (eg. nine, thirty-one). Note also that you do not use a word for 'of', eg.

le neuf février le trente et un mai

- For the first of the month, however, you use the word premier (first), eg.

le premier août

- The names of days of the week and months do not begin with a capital letter in French.

- To say 'on Mondays', etc. you use the word le, eg.

le lundi, je me lève à sept heures.* (On Mondays, I get up at 7 o'clock)

le mardi, je vais au club de gym.* (On Tuesdays, I go to gym club)

- Unlike in English, to say 'on Monday', etc. you don't use any extra words, eg.

Lundi, je vais faire de la natation.* (On Monday, I'm going to go swimming.)

- The phrase le week-end stays the same, eg.

Le week-end, je me lève tard.* (At weekends, I get up late.)
